Message from the Principal

As Christmas approaches it is often a time to reflect on the year. Over this year many in our community have faced difficult times as we are still adjusting back to life after the pandemic. The resilience shown by our staff and students has been a real credit to them. They have carried on, often despite difficult personal circumstances—and for this they need to be commended.

In spite of the difficulties faced, over the year we have been delighted to see a number of achievements here: Mrs Walker winning the BBC Make a Difference Award; we retained the SEND Inclusion Award; Ms Bagley reach the final of the Pearson National Teaching Awards; we gained a quality award for our PE and Sports programme; received the Gold Careers Award; and were shortlisted in the national 2022 Education Business Awards. None of this would have been possible without the dedicated support of staff and of you as parents/carers. All of this was then followed by an amazing school show “The Wizard of Oz”; our first show in 3 years which celebrated the talent that we have within the college. An event like that reminds us why we work in education—and what a privilege it can be.

We hope you have a lovely, peaceful Christmas break and we look forward to welcoming students back on Wednesday 4th January at 9 am.

Mrs Brown, Principal

The awards keep on coming here at New College Leicester

Congratulations to Bernie Walker for her win at BBC Radio Leicester's Make a Difference Awards, bringing home the trophy in the category 'Key Worker'.

Nominated by colleagues, students and parents/carers, the recognition comes as a result of Bernie's tireless work during the pandemic. Providing support to students and their families during challenging times, Bernie went above and beyond her call of duty to help others.

Keen to ensure students did not miss out on their education during lockdown, Bernie – an unsung hero of the education sector – took to the road to deliver work packs to those who needed them, at the same time as providing a friendly face to the school's families that were stuck in isolation.

But missed education was not the only fire she was fighting; 55% of our students are entitled to free school meals, so when the Government were unable to fulfil their free school meal voucher scheme, there was great concern for the families that relied on this support. Taking it upon herself to lessen the burden, Bernie developed a local voucher scheme which ensured that New College families could access nutritional food while the school was closed.

Speaking on the accolade, Mrs Jane Brown, Principal at New College, said: “Bernie is already a local hero in that she lives locally and is extremely community minded. Always putting other people first, Bernie has New College Leicester and New Parks running through her veins.

“During the pandemic, she was a constant force for good and consistently went out of her way to help. No matter what she was asked to do, or took it upon herself to do, she always did it with a smile on her face – because the children come first.”

Bernie Walker said: “I feel truly honoured to have won this award. My only aim is to help people within the New College community, and being thanked in this way is something I will remember forever. Thank you to everybody who took the time to nominate me and to those who make the work I do even more enjoyable.”

Recognised, with distinction!

We are delighted to have been recognised, with distinction, for the quality of our PE and Sports programme.

The Association for Physical Education (AfPE) awarded the new accolade in recognition of our commitment to student' health and wellbeing, excellent teaching and the provision of first-rate facilities.

The AfPE Quality Mark is highly regarded and recognises the crucial role that Physical Education, School Sport and Physical Activity (PESSPA) plays in the lives of children, as well as how it impacts on whole school improvement.

Assessed by a panel of former teachers and experts in the teaching of PE following an extensive self-review and evaluation process, our school has been praised for the quality of teaching, curriculum provision, leadership and management. Specifically, the validator highlighted excellent planning by all teaching staff, a good understanding of what should be taught, a varied and balanced curriculum and high-quality PE facilities.

Our Principal, Mrs Jane Brown, said: "We believe that physical activity is essential if children are to do well in school. And New College takes a 'whole person' approach to education. We value creative subjects, sports and PE highly as they help our students to flourish in other subjects, and as people."

The AfPE Quality Mark Award will help to raise the profile of our school – both locally and nationally – and further promotes the importance of PE as a subject. Providing a platform for sharing success, the recognition identifies where we are now in terms of PESSPA achievement, and direction for the future.

Jane adds: "We are absolutely delighted to have secured this accreditation. It is an amazing achievement for everybody involved and truly a team effort. It is a testament to the hard work and determination that the New College team deliver daily, and I couldn't be prouder."

"Congratulations on achieving the Quality in Careers Standard which fully incorporates the Gatsby Benchmarks"

This is to certify that

New College Leicester

has been externally assessed and awarded the national Quality in Careers Standard for its careers education, information, advice and guidance provision

The award is for a period of up to 2 years, expiring at the latest on 4th September 2024

John Ambrose (Lead Director)

Complete Careers LLP trading as Career Mark

Awarded on 5th September 2022
by Complete Careers LLP trading as Career Mark as a Licensed Awarding Body for the national Quality in Careers Standard

Quality Careers at New College Leicester

We are proud to have retained the Quality in Careers Standard Gold award, recognising the quality and breadth of our careers provision.

The Quality in Careers Standard is the national quality award for careers education, information, advice and guidance (CEIAG) in secondary schools, colleges and work-based learning. Accessible in England, Northern Ireland, the Isle of Man and the Channel Islands, the standard is fully aligned with the Gatsby Benchmarks for Good Career Guidance.

Following an in-depth external assessment, New College Leicester was praised for its use of CEIAG, which underpins the whole school ethos and, as acknowledged by the assessor, raises "student aspiration through activities which develop ambition, self-confidence, communication and employability skills."

The assessment included a review of New College Leicester's evidence portfolio, turning the spotlight on four key areas:

1. Management – the effectiveness of systems for planning, managing and implementing CEIAG
2. Information – the accessibility, relevance, importance and effectiveness of information
3. Advice and Guidance – the effectiveness of an integrated programme of advice, guidance and support
4. Career Learning – how effectively the curriculum supports the development of learners' knowledge, skills, understanding and attitudes

A fifth component, Learning Outcomes, is also assessed in person via the learners.

Valid for two years, the award is highly regarded – and the latest Department for Education's (DfE) statutory guidance to colleges builds heavily upon the 8 Gatsby Benchmarks for "Good Careers Guidance", strongly recommending that all secondary schools work towards and achieve the national Quality in Careers Standard.

Speaking on the success, our Principal, Mrs Jane Brown, said: "We are delighted that our Career Mark assessment has successfully passed the verification process again and it's a credit to our entire team to have consistently achieved the high standard demanded by the award.

"Our Careers and Employability Strategy provides a strategic framework and direction that recognises the challenges of New College Leicester's location and associated deprivation indicators, with a commitment to breaking the cycle of disadvantage and improving social mobility, which is a key part of the school's masterplan.

And success, in this instance, can be measured by the size of our sixth form. Once large, we now have just a few sixth form students – this is because our students, as a result of the programme, now have the confidence and self-belief to travel into the city centre and further afield; with 87% of students going into other city based Further Education or sixth form college establishments. Another success indicator is the low number of those students not in employment, education or training.

Congratulations to everybody involved."

A grand day out ...at the theatre!

Earlier this year, sixteen of our students made their way to Leicester's Curve Theatre to see The Four Seasons by James Wilton Dance Company.

Complimenting our commitment to a broad and balanced curriculum – and further developing our students' cultural capital – this was a real opportunity for students to experience a live dance performance in a world-class theatre.

Shannon Coote and Billy Keen from Moving Together Dance (MTD) joined us on the trip, in support of the children who attended the theatre as part of their Arts Award Bronze (AAB), which is part of their after-school commitments.

This after school club, which is a fully-funded programme, supports our students' involvement in dance activities, enabling them to achieve their AAB qualification.

The students had a great evening out, and hope to return to Leicester's Curve theatre again soon. Here's a selection of their comments:

"I loved the whole show ... it was amazing, and I'd love to dance like that."

Ash, Year 7

"I enjoyed the actual dance because it isn't a style I usually watch, and it was interesting."

Megan, Year 7

"I enjoyed everything about this trip."

Liam, Year 7

Centre stage with Othello!

In October, our year 9, 10 and 11 drama students visited Leicester's Curve Theatre to watch Frantic Assembly's Othello.

The trip was planned in support of a physical theatre study that all year 9 drama students will participate in next spring, with a focus on the play Othello.

Applying physical and vocal skills, the students will be asked to portray an extract from the play through the style of physical theatre.

The aim of the study is to understand the style of physical theatre; appreciate beauty and excellence; and to be respectful to others.

The children thoroughly enjoyed their trip and described their experience as "amazing", "captivating" and "awesome".

We're coming for you, Cornwall!

Just before the summer with help from Adaptable Travel, our students hit the road with Cornwall in their sights.

The trip saw them visit Tewkesbury Abbey and the Eden Project, with some fascinating links to history and incredible coastal Geography thrown in for good measure. They even got the chance to dip their toes in the sea!

Staying for two nights in Padstow Bay at the Treyarnon YHA, the trip encouraged:

1. A better understanding of coastal processes
2. Knowledge around the importance of our biosphere, exploring a variety of biomes
3. Development of team work and communication skills

The Eden Project

During their visit to the Eden Project, our students completed two educational workshops: 'Biodiversity Bees and Me' and 'E-den-storm Patrol'.

These workshops promoted teamwork, problem-solving and communication – three important skills that will benefit them throughout their education, personal, and eventually, professional lives.

They also incorporated the 4 R's: Respect, Responsibility, Resilience and Resourcefulness – the values that we, as a school, hold most dear.

The students thoroughly enjoyed their staycation, and wished they could have stayed longer. Here's a selection of their comments:

"We have enjoyed this trip because we got to spend time with are friends ...and got McDonald's! We found walking through the biomes at the Eden Project cool. Our favourite moment was playing on the beach. We learnt to be more independent and social, and we made friends in year 8."

"I really enjoyed myself on this trip because we got to go on the beach and the hostel was an amazing place. I would recommend this to other year 8/9s as it is a great experience to learn about the importance of the environment. My best moment was that I spoke to people I wouldn't normally speak to. I have made some new friends and I have bonded with new people. I learned that we should protect plants and wildlife more as we don't realise how important they are."

"I did enjoy the trip as it gave me more knowledge on my favourite subject, and I got to see differential erosion in person!"

"I would most definitely suggest this to the next year 8 and 9's. I would come again if I could, to be honest."

"I learnt that it takes 2 million rose petals to make 1litre of rose oil!"

Ms Smith, Head of Department, has expressed her thanks to Adaptable Travel for supporting with the organisation of the trip, and to the Eden Project for its hospitality!

Order! Aspire Students Visit Parliament

On Friday 7th October, our Year 9 students took a trip to London for a tour of parliament and to take part in a workshop on laws and debating.

Organised in conjunction with Parliament Education Service, 30 students were given the opportunity to learn more about how parliament works and how laws are made.

The trip was designed to inspire students to raise their aspirations and as a reward for completing their masterclasses last year as part of the Aspire Programme. The children thoroughly enjoyed the trip, and some of their comments can be seen below:

"I really liked seeing where laws are made and how the monarchy and parliament work together."

"It was really interested to learn about laws and debating."

"I liked learning and seeing how the houses of lords and commons worked."

"I learnt a lot of information and the process about law making."

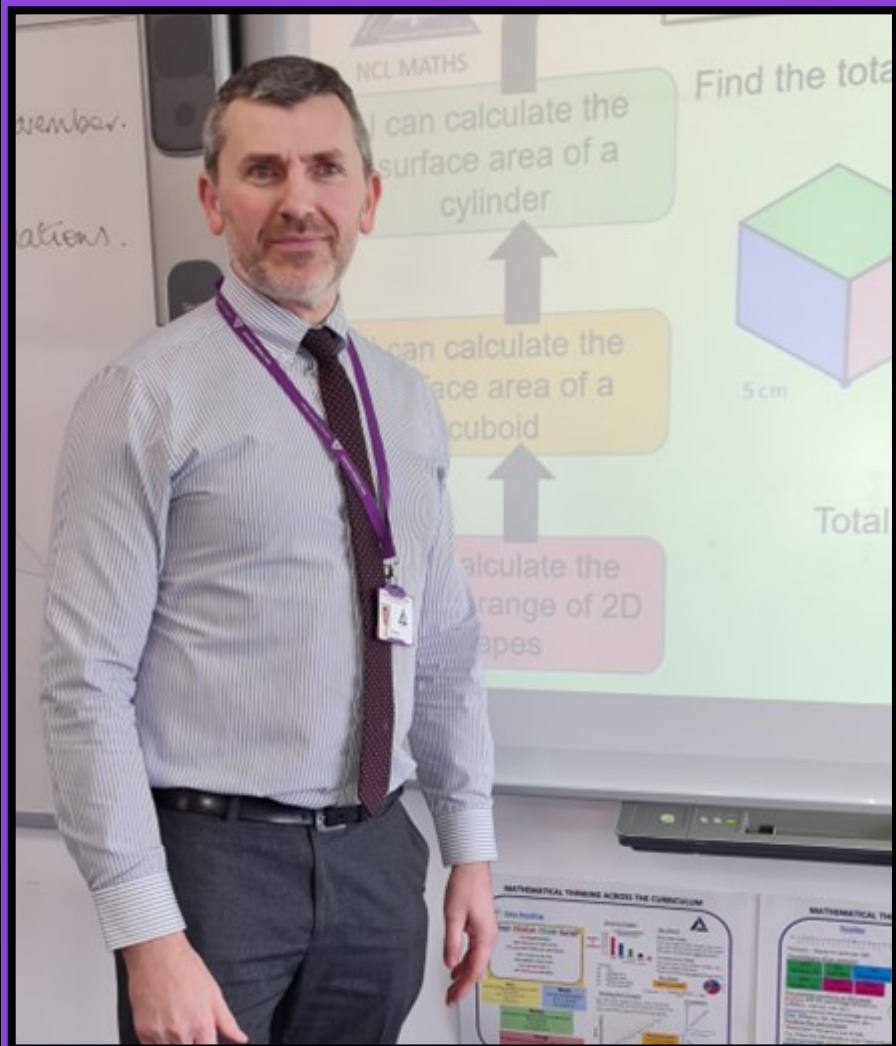

"This was my best trip experience ever!"

"I felt very privileged to go there when not many people get a chance to see behind the scenes at parliament."

Mathematics Matters!

We have had a particular focus on maths over recent years, because maths really does matter at New College Leicester. Our Head of Mathematics, Mr Michael Anyon, explains why being numerate and comfortable with Mathematics is important for any role in society.

Mathematics plays a significant role in the society we live in and is an important tool for addressing many challenges across a variety of careers. The acquisition of basic skills of Mathematics is vital for the life opportunities and achievements of our students.

We recognise that being literate and numerate is important for any role in society, and we aim to develop key life skills, encouraging students to be reflective, critical thinkers with an 'I can' mentality.

We believe that every child can achieve in Mathematics, and we have developed a curriculum that allows them to do this.

A recent review of the faculty observed an "extensive investment in manipulatives [which] help students visualise 'real' Mathematics", noting that "there has also been an investment in Continuous Professional Development (CPD) for staff and the results of this strategy have been significant."

The Mathematics Faculty has seen year-on-year improvement, and we regularly review and refine the curriculum, keeping up to date with relevant pedagogies, sharing best practice and improving outcomes for students.

Through a well-structured and carefully sequenced curriculum, students develop their conceptual understanding of Mathematics by modelling situations using concrete materials and relating them to pictorial and abstract representations. Over time, students are able to translate meaning across the different types of representation, as they develop their ability to reason and solve problems and their fluency improves.

To cite a couple of examples, the faculty review commented on an "extensive use of manipulatives which helped students understand algebra" and that "concrete materials were used to construct improper fractions, visually enabling students to gain a fluent understanding."

Regular ongoing formative assessments ensure that students progress at an appropriate pace, constantly building on prior learning. Since mathematical knowledge is hierarchical, a good attendance is paramount to success and students who demonstrate this commitment to their learning make good progress. Where attendance is good, outcomes for students are also good, even exceeding national headline figures.

Duke of Edinburgh Success for Year 11s

In September, eight of our year 11 students embarked on a two-day expedition for their bronze Duke of Edinburgh (DofE) award.

Led by New College Leicester's DofE Manager, Mr Hepworth-Adcock and DofE Leader, Miss Wain, the team had to plan their own countryside expedition and show that they can navigate their way using nothing but a map and compass – all whilst carrying heavy camping equipment and supplies.

The team spent two days hiking around Leicestershire – proving they can navigate successfully – and spent one-night camping at Beaumanor Hall.

As part of the expedition, the students needed to demonstrate basic campcraft skills such as pitching a tent and cooking a meal on a Trangia stove, and developed some important life skills along the way including orienteering, communication, resilience, teamwork and volunteering. They will use these skills later in life through their future studies and work.

Having successfully navigated their way through Leicestershire's countryside, the group completed their expedition and will be rewarded with a bronze DofE award.

By taking part and successfully completing the challenge, the students have also enhanced their CVs and improved their future employment opportunities.

New College says 'NO' to Bullying!

In October we welcomed 15 year old Belle Kumble-Rose into New College Leicester to share her experiences of bullying and cyberbullying, and speak to our students about how these two things impacted her mental health.

The purpose of Belle's visit was to promote positive mental health strategies, to ensure that our students are equipped with the right knowledge and skills to prevent and/or deal with bullying of any kind.

Belle, who has been a victim of bullying in the past, performed some of her music, told her story and shared advice with our students. She also offered guidance on how to maintain high levels of personal safety.

Organised by our Head of Health and Wellbeing, Mrs Samantha Kopicki, with the help of The Prime Agency, the learning outcomes for our students were a) to recall the different types of bullying, b) to describe ways of staying safe online and c) to explain strategies for promoting positive mental health.

Our students thoroughly enjoyed the session – here's a selection of their comments:

"She was amazing!"

"She's got an incredible voice!"

"I am so inspired by her!"

Belle has a large social media following and can be found on Instagram, TikTok and Twitter – @bellekumblrose. The session was organised in conjunction with The Prime Agency who can also be found on Twitter (@theprimeagency), Instagram (@theprimeagency) and Facebook - www.facebook.com/theprimeagencyofficial.

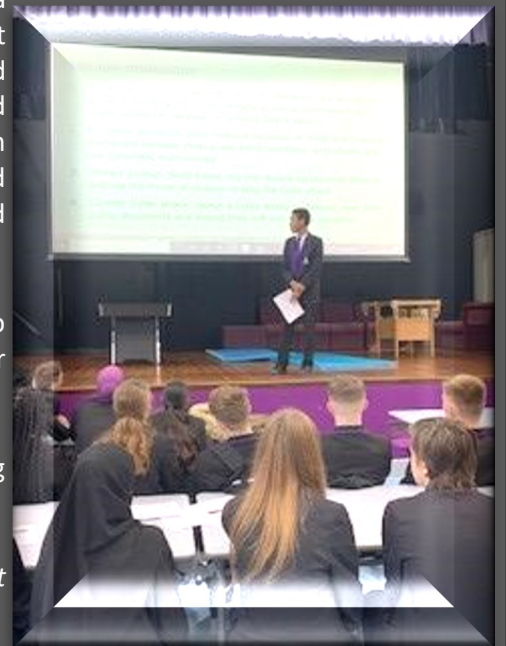

NATO event at New College Leicester

On Tuesday 25th October, Year 10 had an interesting morning taking part in on a NATO simulation game. We invited Connie and Oliver from 'Shout Out UK' to help the year group become more knowledgeable about NATO and its relationship with the UK.

Shout Out UK empowers teachers and schools to deliver Political and Media Literacy education via workshops. Its aim is to encourage more students to become interested in politics and world issues. We thought hosting a workshop would be the perfect way to get the children involved in something fun and excited over a topic that can often be seen as a little colourless.

The students were given a country and carried out research of their allocated country's resources and political positions, giving them a chance work as a team and come together to discuss and agree different responses.

This was a perfect opportunity for our year 10s to get more insight into what their exam paper later this year will consist of, increasing their analytical skills and understanding of decision-making process.

We are proud to say our children got the most out of it after reading back the feedback comments:

"The idea of discussing NATO was itself amazing, while I learnt a lot about the countries and their economy and military power."

"Helped us to get a bigger perspective of the world."

"I really enjoyed this session because now I understand how hard it really is for NATO and other organisations to decide on one decision."

Engaged and Inquisitive Year 7 Students Step Back In Time!

The City of Leicester is steeped in history and a recent walking tour by year 7 students provided the opportunity to enrich and enhance their understanding of the city's historical significance. After the restrictions of Covid, it was great to be out and about providing first-hand experience of the history that surrounds us.

We're fortunate in Leicester in having so much evidence of this available on the streets we use every day and in our wonderful museums. The tour covered centuries of history and featured key sites such as Newarke Gateway, Jewry Wall, St. Nicholas Church, Leicester Castle, St. Mary's de Castro Church, Turret Gateway and Trinity Hospital. One of the 54 students taking part in the experience commented:

"It was educational yet fun! My favourite part of the day was the walking tour around Leicester."

The positive attitude of the students impressed history teacher, Miss Lehane, who noted:

"The students were fully engaged and inquisitive, asking further questions to discover more about Leicester's history, particularly during the walking tour."

The immersive learning experience continued with a visit to Newarke Houses Museum which incorporates the museum of the Royal Leicestershire Regiment along with a range of exhibits illustrating post-medieval and contemporary Leicester. The military displays cover artefacts depicting life on the front-line and at the home front during both world wars. The displays feature a model trench and a Morrison Shelter which was a star attraction for one of the students who said:

"I love learning about World War One, so I really enjoyed learning about life in the trenches and the local connections to the war."

Miss Lehane summed up the successful day saying,

"The students were excellent and represented the school brilliantly which was recognised by all the teachers and museum staff. Thank-you to our year 7 students for helping to make our day of historical discovery so successful. Nothing beats first-hand experience like this!"

A Once in a Lifetime Experience for NCL's Young Footballers

New College Leicester students were given a rare opportunity to tour Leicester City Football Club's state of the art Sports Turf Academy, followed by watching both the goal keepers' training session and the outfield players training session. Opened in 2020, the Academy, located north of the city at Seagrave boasts the highest specification facility in Europe and needless to say, made a huge impression on our students.

Organised with the aim of raising the students' awareness of careers available in the sport and to give them the privileged access to the extensive facilities at the ground, the encounter with various players and seeing training in action were added bonuses.

On arrival at the training ground, the students received a warm welcome from Youri Tielemans, Leicester's midfielder and Belgium national team member and defender Timothy Castagne who also plays for Belgium. This reception alone was exciting enough but the tour of the outstanding training facilities at the ground had everyone buzzing with excitement.

Highlights of the tour included the customised gym and hydrotherapy facilities, including the pool and changing facilities and the Vichai Srivaddhanaprabha building which is the site's primary training, medical, and administrative hub for the First Team and Academy. The students were able to view the various training pitches where they were able to see some of the academy players in action.

The opportunity to see the training session of the first team goalies was another plus, made extra special when first team goalkeeper Danny Ward popped across for a chat. More rubbing shoulders with the great and the good of LCFC came when manager, Brendan Rodgers, kindly came over to shake hands with the students.

The outfield training session which was taking place gave the students chance to watch England stars James Maddison and Harvey Barnes in action. More star players were encountered when our students watched the players' recovery sessions and it was great for our students to be able to have a chat with them.

The visit to LCFC's Academy actually rendered some of our students momentarily speechless when they met the players. It was a visit full of varied interest, described by one student as a 'once in a lifetime experience.' It was certainly a visit they'll never forget!

Thanks to all at LCFC for making this experience possible and the warmth of the welcome we received.

Inspire Together – KS4 Girls' Football Tournament

Our intrepid KS4 girls' football team recently took part in a football tournament held at the Goals Football Centre. Organised by the Schools Sports Partnership, the event was held to provide students with the opportunity to play against those from other schools in the area.

Their sterling efforts and positive attitude resulted in a 1-0 win against Sir Jonathan North, and a 2-1 win against Orchard Mead Academy but we could not overcome a talented team from Rushey Mead and lost 2-0.

Above all, the students were thrilled to take part in the event and are keen to play more games. Given their enthusiasm, we have since arranged more friendly fixtures.

Congratulations to our KS4 football squad on their achievement.

Year 7 Netball Tournament

Great teamwork, good skills and a positive mindset were key ingredients of the year 7s' success at the recent inter school girls' netball tournament held at Soar Valley.

The New College Leicester team faced stiff competition from 4 other schools but their great passing down the court and impressive shooting resulted in the year 7s winning 3 out of their 4 matches. Congratulations to all the team on their success and for being such great ambassadors for our school.

The event was held as part of Leicestershire's Inspire Together sports programme which has the core mission of providing health, well-being, and physical activity opportunities to inspire the young people of Leicester and give them the knowledge they need to lead a healthier, happier future. Part of the programme includes raising the profile of competitive school sport and the participation of young people in a range of events. The initiative is certainly making an impact on NCL students, with one of the team commenting:

"I really enjoyed having this opportunity. My favourite part of netball is how our team gets on and how supportive they are when we score."

A great reminder that participation in sport provides a wonderful opportunity for building friendships. We look forward to taking part in more Inspire Together events and thank the Inspire leaders for arranging these opportunities.

Year 10 Sports Leaders in Action

Our year 10 NCLPE Leaders were keen to put on a well organised event for youngsters from four Leicestershire primary schools taking part in the West Leicester New Age Kurling competition. Without the support from Young Leaders, Inspire Together, the overall organisers of the event, would not be able to provide such a broad spectrum of sporting opportunities.

New Age Kurling is a fully inclusive exciting target game with teams playing tactically to position with the stones. Similar to the sport of curling seen at the Olympic games, this version has been adapted so it can be played on the gym floor. Kurling is proving a popular addition to primary school sport, with the students certainly showing an appetite for playing the game.

The NCLPE leaders prepared the court and welcomed their teams, organising where they would be seated. Then there were rules to be explained and scores to be kept. Pupils from Beaumont Lodge Primary School, Forest Lodge Academy, Hazel Community Primary School and Avenue Primary School did their schools proud, focusing on the game and trying really hard. Our NCLPE Leaders reported they were a pleasure to work with! Hazel School were the winners of the group and went through to the finals.

This was a great opportunity for our Sports leaders who thoroughly enjoyed the event and were pleased that they had the skills and the confidence to lead the activities. The experience will greatly benefit their BTEC Sport course.

New College Welcomes Daniel James

Post 16 students and those in years 10 and 11 recently enjoyed an inspirational visit from life coach, Daniel James.

Daniel shared his key life experiences using different analogies to raise the hopes and aspirations of our students. He used his talk as a vehicle to promote the importance of positive mental health and the strategies which can be used to raise self-esteem and self-belief.

Daniel's life has had its challenges, one of which was overcoming dyslexia to obtain a university degree, and he's made a few wrong decisions. He talked about how he had turned his life around by taking responsibility for his actions, working hard and developing a positive attitude.

The students found Daniel's talk inspiring with some students commenting that they wanted to do the same as he had done with their lives or something similar. Others felt that they still had time to make better decisions for their future. Certainly, all the students were prompted to evaluate their life choices and to consider how they might impact on their future lives.

Thank you to Daniel for generously giving his time to visit us and leaving our students with plenty of food for thought!

Meet our Safeguarding Team here at New College Leicester!
